Workflow

We care about our products, starting from cultivation. So, all fertilization, nutrition, and pest control processes are done under the full supervision of GrowthChem to ensure obtaining fruits completely. Then we move forward to collecting the fruits using the right methods that preserve the shape and quality of the fruits by the hands of carefully trained farmers. Last but not least to the processes of washing, sorting, production, then packing according to needed specifications, followed by export using the fastest and safest shipping methods to ensure that the products arrive fresh in the quickest time and lowest cost.
